Breast Cancer Survivors Thrive on Dragon Boat Team: New Members Welcomed

Published: Jan. 20, 2013, 12:24 a.m.

By Pink Phoenix Outreach Team

Pink Phoenix, America's first dragon boat team comprised wholly of breast cancer survivors, invites survivors to its annual Team Meeting & Open House for Prospective Members on Saturday, February 2, 2013 from 9:00 am to noon.

Visitors will learn about an exciting water sport and meet Pink Phoenix team members who range in age from 33 - 93. Entering their 16th season, this welcoming group promotes fitness through dragon boating and participates in breast cancer awareness and outreach activities.

The Pinks, as they are known in the paddling community because of their distinctive pink life vests, compete in three Portland races annually. Travel is not required, but the team often sends a crew to dragon boat festivals in California, Washington and British Columbia. Newcomers are welcome as the team balances their competitive spirit with the growth and development of new paddlers.

Registration for the Open House begins at 9:00 am in the Auditorium (Building 2) on the Legacy Good Samaritan Medical Center campus, 1040 NW 22nd, Portland OR. Free parking is available in Parking Structure 2 on Marshall Street.
